

Stichera on the Praises

Holy Glorious Prophet Elijah - July 20

Tone 8
Sticheron 1

Model melody: "What shall we call you"
from the Sputnik psalomshchika, arr. V. Morosan

Soprano
Alto

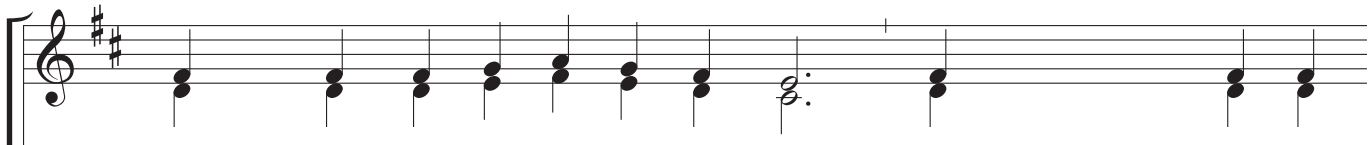

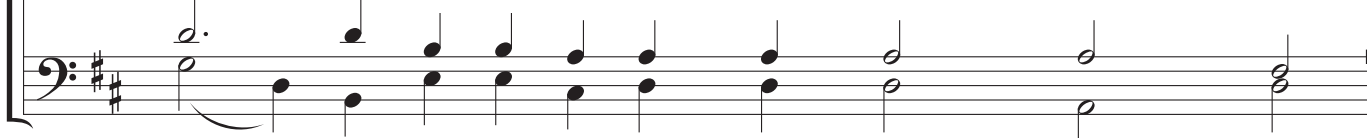

U - nit - ed to God by vir - tue and a

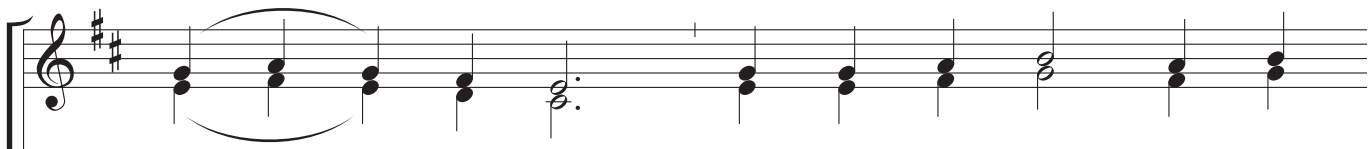

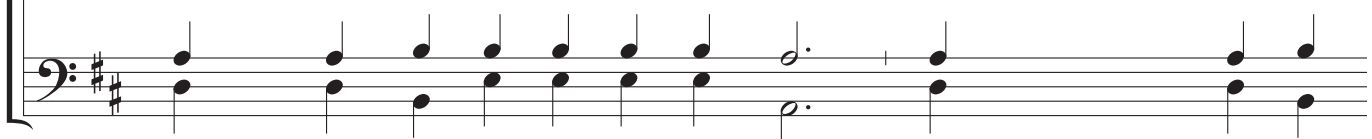

Tenor
Bass

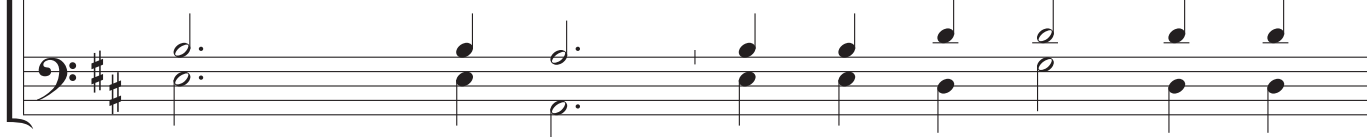

spot - less way of life, O di - vine Proph - et, you re-ceived au-thor-i - ty from Him: You ordered creation to your de - sire, closed up the por - tals of [rain by your will.]

rain by your will, and called down

fire from on high to consume the im - pi - ous. //

There - fore pray that our souls

may be saved!

Sticheron 2

A - flame with zeal for the Lord, you -

[fierce-ly rebuke . . .]

fierce - ly re-buked the kings — who trans - gressed the — law.

You boldly executed the priests of dis - hon - or

and enkindled a miraculous fire in the wa - ters!

You se - cured — flame — with - out — strik - ing for — it, and with your man - tle thou divided the [waters of Jor-dan in two,] wa - ters of Jor - dan in two: // Ev - er pray that our souls may be saved!

Sticheron 3

Man - i - fest - ing on earth a tru - ly

heav - en - ly life, O Proph - et:

the riches of the life existing with - in your - self.

[You raised the dead . . .]

You raised the dead — with your breath. Re - main - ing your-self — a - bove — death, you as - cend - ed on high in a char - iot of fire. // There-fore

pray that our souls — may — be — saved!