Tone 5
Sticheron 1

Kievan Chant
arr. from B. Ledkovsky

Soprano
Alto

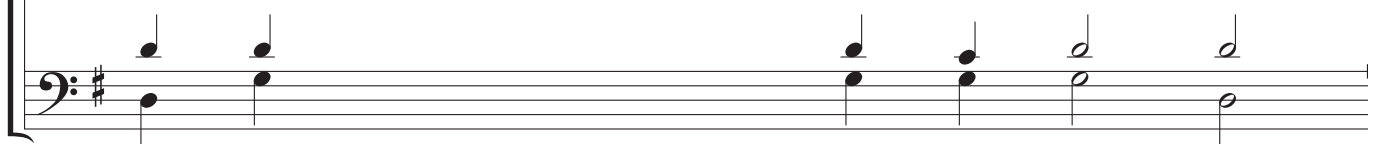

Re - jice, O Saint Olga, our righteous moth - er,

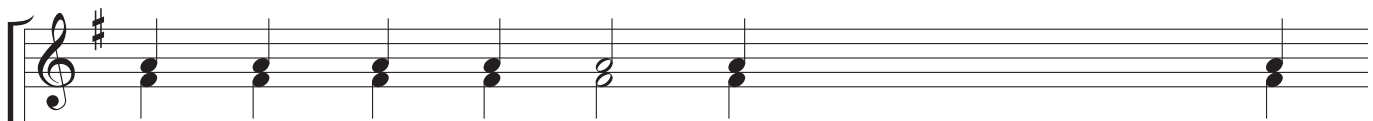

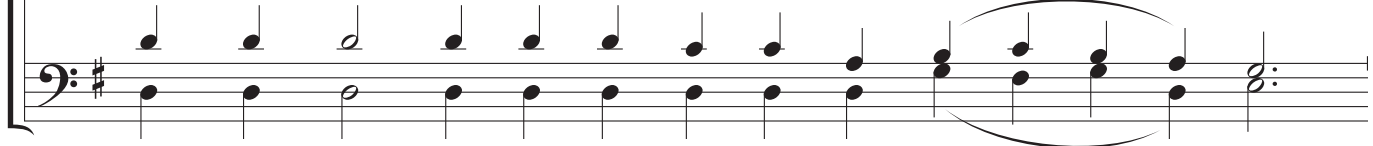

Tenor
Bass

for thou hast received the traditions of thine el - ders, who loved God in a pure Or - tho - dox man - ner, and thou didst pre - serve and hand down those traditions

[as a treasure...]

as a treasure more pre - cious than gold. Thine Orthodox faith was manifest in thy humble and pi - ous way of life, in thy love for thy neigh-bor and thy fear of God.

May that same faith make us humble and rev - erent, that we too may come to know the joys of those who [truly love...]

truly love and serve Christ the Lord: // through thy holy intercessions and God's great mer - cy.

vs. Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Doxastichon

A star of sanctity shines brightly over the Kus - ko-kwim, bringing hope and comfort to those who re-joice in its light:

our bless - ed moth - er Ol - ga of Kwéth - luk,

[a physician...]

a phy - si - cian of afflictions of soul and bod - y and a quick intercessor for those in need.// Pray now, O right-eous moth - er, that our souls may be saved.

vs. Now, and ever, and unto ages of ages. Amen.

Theotokion

O pure Vir - gin Lady Theo - to - kos, our hope that can-not be put to shame, be our pro-tec - tion and our de - liv-erance

[from the grievous trials...]

from the grievous trials and tribulations that be - set us.

To - geth - er with holy Olga and all the saints, // entreat thy Son and our God that he may pour out up - on us his rich mer - cy.
