Re-joice, O Saint Ol - ga, our right-eous moth - er,

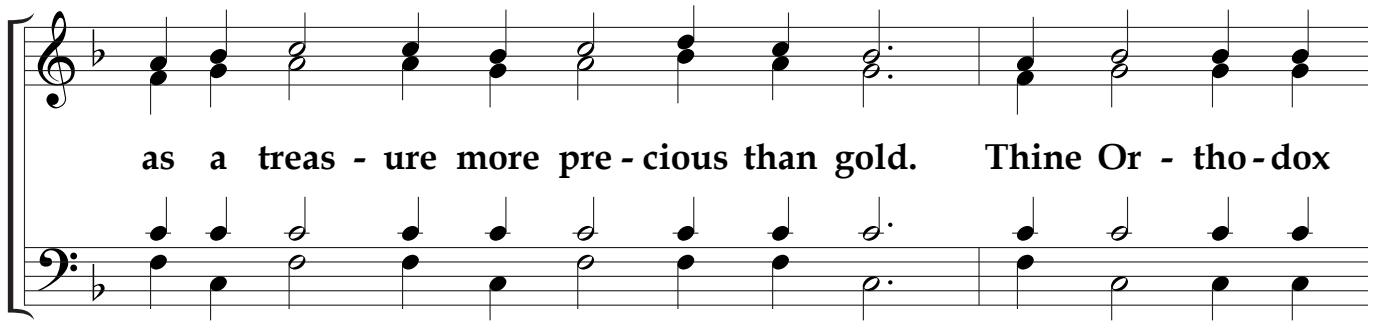

Tenor
Bass

for thou hast received the traditions of thine el - ders, who loved God in a pure Or - tho - dox man - ner, and thou didst pre-serve and hand down those tra - di - tions

[as a treas-ure more pre-cious . . . ]

as a treas - ure more pre - cious than gold. Thine Or - tho-dox faith was manifest in thy humble and pi - ous way of life, in thy love for thy neighbor and thy fear of God.

May that same faith make us humble and rev - 'rent, that we too may come to know the joys of those who truly

[love and serve Christ . . . ]

love and serve Christ the Lord: // through thy holy inter - ces - sions and God's great mer - cy.

v. Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit . . .

A star of sanctity shines brightly o - ver the Kus - ko-kwim*, bring-ing hope and comfort to those who re - joice in its light: our bless - ed mother Ol-ga of Kwe - thluk*,

[a physician of afflictions . . .]

a phy - si - cian of afflictions of soul and bod - y and a quick intercessor for those — in need. //

Pray now, O righteous moth - er, that our souls may be saved.

v. Now and ever, and unto ages of ages. Amen.

O pure Vir - gin La - dy The - o - to - kos, our hope that can - not be put — to shame, be our pro -

[pro-tec-tion and our deliverance]

tec - tion and our de - liv - er - ance from the griev - ous trials and tribulations that be - set us. To - geth - er with holy Olga and all the saints, // entreat thy Son and our God that He may pour out up - on us His rich mer - cy.
