You were giv - en the grace of cures and heal - ing;

hav - ing been faithful in little, you were given authority o - ver — much. To a wo - man suffering in spirit and op-pressed by her past, you out-stretched your lov - ing — arms,

[lifting her up...]

lift - ing her up and re - stor - ing her to whole - ness and life.

Where - fore, O holy mátushka, comforter of the suf - fer - ing, / we join her in hon - or - ing your ho - ly mem - o - ry, // glorifying our God Who is won - drous in His Saints.

v. Rejoice in the Lord, O you righteous; praise befits the just. (Ps. 32:1)

Sticheron 2

In the re - mote wil - der - ness of the Alas - kan

[tundra,]

tun - dra, great beau - ty has arisen like the warm sun — of — spring: Our bless - ed Mother Árrsamquq*, the kind and mer - ci - ful, who brings comfort and healing to those — in need. Touch - ing them with her gentle and lov - ing hands, look - ing at them with a calm and peace - ful gaze, /

*St. Olga's given Yupik name, pronounced "AHKH-sum-ghook."

[she reminds ...]

she re-minds them to fear not, // for it is the Father's good pleasure to give them the King - dom.

v. Blessed are all they that fear the Lord, that walk in his ways. (Ps. 127:1)

Sticheron 3

Moth - ers who have lost their children while still in the womb turn to you, O holy midwife of Kwe - thluk*, ask - ing in prayer that their unborn be pro-tect - ed in your care

Pronounced KWEE-thlook*

[and safely born ...]

and safely born into the world to give glo - ry to God.

And as once in Kwethluk*, so now you race — un - to their aid, car - ing for them until their child - ren can be born, / grant - ing them to see — the fruit of their womb // and through the Virgin Theotokos, peace and great mer - cy.

*Pronounced "KWEE-thlook"
