Re-ceive this hymn of praise, O most compassionate fa - ther, and re - ject — it not: for though it be little, yet it is — full of love. For what words would suffice to laud thy won-drous life, O saint? For thou hast attained the height of the as - cet - ics of old, and like the morning star thou dost lead un - to the knowl - edge of God souls gone astray in the dark night of sin; and thou teachest the world of the Holy Spir - it not through rea - son - ing, but by thy life.

[of the ascetics of old,]

Wherefore, we are filled with wonder at the sight of thee, O

Sil - ou-an, and we bless the land that bore thee, and like-wise thy spiritual homeland where thou wast filled with ho - li - ness.

Make intercession unto the Lord for us, we be - seech thee, //

O new and great glory of Mount Ath - os.
