arr. from L'vov/Bakhmetev

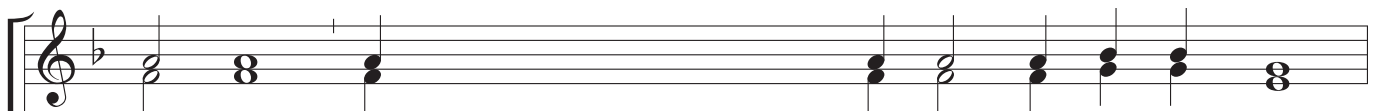

Soprano
Alto

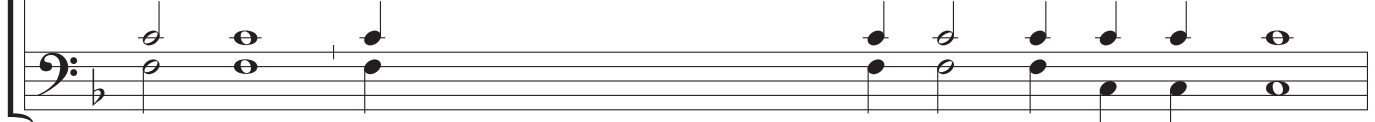

Tenor
Bass

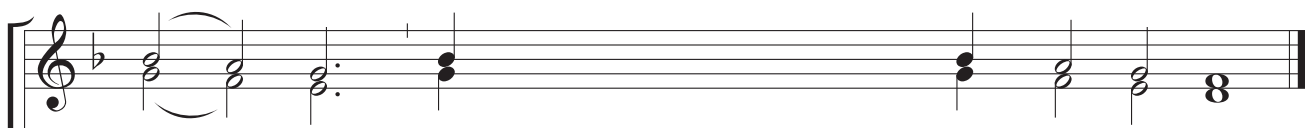

Let us all praise with hymns of gladness the new off-spring of Ath - os, rightly added unto the con - gre - ga - tion of the saints, be - ing a perfect image of their vir - tues, Silouan, vouch-safed to see — God, // Whose grace he sought and made man - i - fest.

Sticheron 2

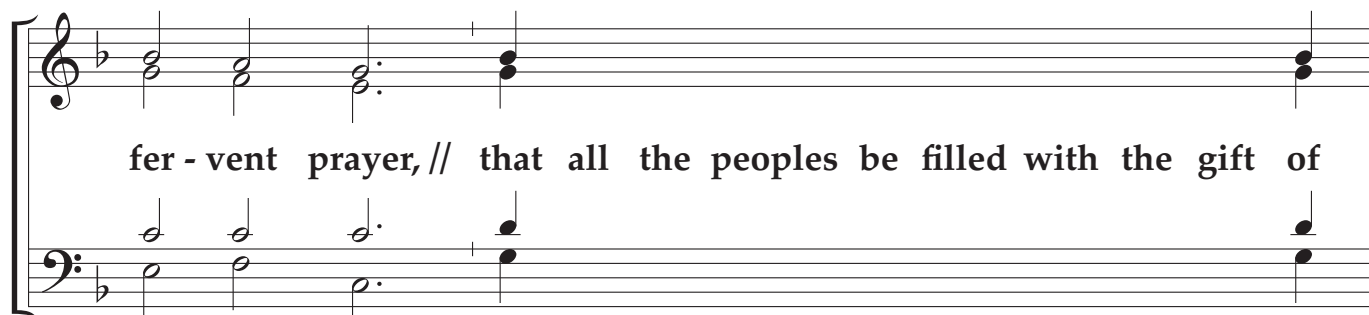

From child-hood thou didst seek after God, O Silouan our fa-ther.

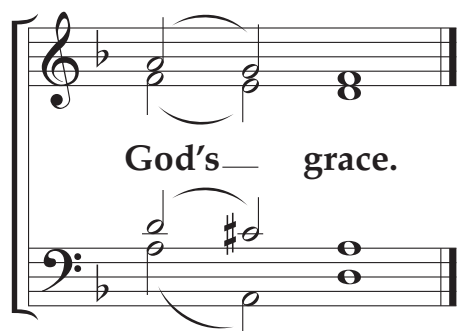

and didst hold Him fast, not by knowl-edge a-lone, but by the in-eff-able power of the Spir-it: And thou didst offer up thy fer-vent prayer, // that all the peoples be filled with the gift of God's— grace.

"The king-dom of God is with-in man," so spoke our Lawgiver,

Who can - not lie; and thou, O Silouan, didst close-ly search His words, and didst find them to be as dew up - on the earth of thy heart, // bring - ing an in - crease of seed.
