Exhibit Rules, Regulations and General Information
You are cordially invited to participate and exhibit in the 18th All-American Council to be held in Atlanta, Georgia at the Atlanta Hilton, 255 Courtland Street NE, Atlanta, GA, 30303, Phone 404-659-2000. A brochure is included with this prospectus.

This Prospectus outlines your contractual agreement with the Orthodox Church in America which is in effect after you sign the enclosed contract, return it with payment to the OCA Treasurer, and are accepted and confirmed by the Preconciliar Commission. The Orthodox Church in America is hereinafter referred to as the OCA, and the 18th All-American Council is hereinafter referred to as the AAC.

Room reservations at the Hilton Atlanta are open to AAC Exhibitors at a special conference rate of $124.00 plus tax. This special group rate is extended by the Hyatt Regency three days before and after the Council dates, but is subject to availability. Reservations can be made through a special website created for the Orthodox Church in America which can be accessed through the All American website at www.18aac.oca.org.

The deadline for hotel reservations is July 17, 2015; however, this cut-off date is based on availability. A limited room block has been reserved and it is suggested that exhibitors make their reservations early. If there are any problems making reservations, the Hilton Atlanta may be contacted directly.

There will be designated exhibitors’ areas, an area that will include the informational displays on the OCA ministries and Church related institutions of the OCA, as well as a number of commercial exhibitors offering their products and services to the council participants. A complete list of all displayers and vendors will be available as well as a map of their locations will be made available to the general public at the time of the Council. This year we have a convenient room dedicated to the exhibitors across the hall from the room used for the plenary sessions. The display and vendor locations will be on the second floor in the Grand Salon Ballroom. There may be some space available for overflow in the hallways and there will be signs directing people to these locations. Depending on the response, there may be additional booths available, a member of the local committee will inform you if you initially request additional space and it becomes available.

Vendors and displayers will be located in the Grand Salon Ballroom. These rooms will be open during the AAC and locked at the end of each day. Special requests will be considered with the submission of a written request to the local Preconciliar Committee prior to the beginning of the AAC. We will be utilizing the services of Freeman, a local exhibit company. They will be providing the booths and material. There will be a standard 8’ x 10’ booth for vendors and displayers. Additional material can be ordered directly from Freeman at your own expense. Freeman can also provide shipping to and from the AAC. A catalog can be located at www.freemanco.com. In addition, shipments can be sent directly to the hotel through FedEx located on the premises (404-223-0836).
