Let us who love their words come together with hymns, and honor the three great torch-bearers of the triune God-head:

Basil the Great, Gregory the Theologian, and John Chrysostom!

These men have enlightened the world with the rays of their divine doctrines. They are sweetly flowing rivers of wisdom, and have filled all creation with springs of heaven-ly knowl-edge.

They cease-lessly in-ter-cede for us// before the Ho-ly

Trin-i-ty.
