We celebrate the feast of Pentecost and the coming of the Spirit, the appointed day of the promise, the fulfillment of hope. How majestic and great is the mystery! Therefore we cry aloud to Thee: //

“Glory to Thee, O Lord and Creator of all!”
Thou hast renewed Thy Disciples, O Christ, by giving them the gift of foreign tongues, that through them they might preach of Thee, the immortal Word and

God, // Who gives great mercy to our souls.

The Holy Spirit provides all things: He pours forth

[prophecies,] proph-cies, He leads priests to per-fec-tion, He teach-es un-schooled peo-ple wis-dom, He re-veals fishermen as the-o-lo-gians, He con-firms the Church. // O Comforter, one in essence and enthroned with the Father and the Son, glo-ry to Thee!

We have seen the True light, we have received the heavenly Spirit; we have found the true faith worshipping the undivided Trinity: // Who has saved us.

In the Prophets, O our Savior, Thou didst proclaim [to us the way ...] to us the way of salvation. In the Apostles the grace of Thy Spirit shone forth. From the beginning and ever after, Thou art God, our God before the ages.

In Thy courts I will praise Thee, the Savior of the world.
On bended knee I will worship Thine invisible might.

In the evening, in the morning, and at noon-time—/

at all times I will bless Thee, O Lord.

Sticheron 7

In Thy courts, O Lord, we faithful bend the knees of soul and body; with songs we proclaim Thee, O eternal

[Father and co-eternal Son]
Father and co-e-t-er-nal Son, and all-holy and co-eternal

Spir-it, // Who dost sanctify and en-light-en our souls.

Sticheron 8

Let us praise in song the consubstantial Trin-i-ty:

the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spir-it. // For this was the preaching of all the Prophets, Apostles, and Mar-tyrs.
